What is Learn To Play Day?

National Learn To Play Day is back for its sixth successive year on Saturday 24th June 2017.

If you have ever wanted to find out more about playing a musical instrument LtPD is the perfect opportunity. All lessons are by fully qualified music teachers on a vast array of instruments that includes guitar, bass, ukulele, banjo, drums, keyboards, violin, piano, trumpet, clarinet, percussion and many, many more.

Organised by Music for All, the charity of the UK musical instrument industry, in partnership with the Musician's Union, the Arts Council England 'Take it away' scheme and Making Music, the aim of Learn To Play Day is to encourage people of all ages and experience to join in this musical learning experience and be inspired to start or get back to playing an instrument.

Supporters of LtPD and the charity include Gareth Malone, Dame Evelyn Glennie, Al Murray, Rodrigo y Gabriela, Nick Mason (Pink Floyd), Rick Wakeman (Yes), Rick Astley, Ian Paice, Glenn Hughes & Steve Morse (Deep Purple). Patron of Music for All is Jools Holland who is 'delighted to help Music for All in their quest to inspire more people to participate in music making'.
